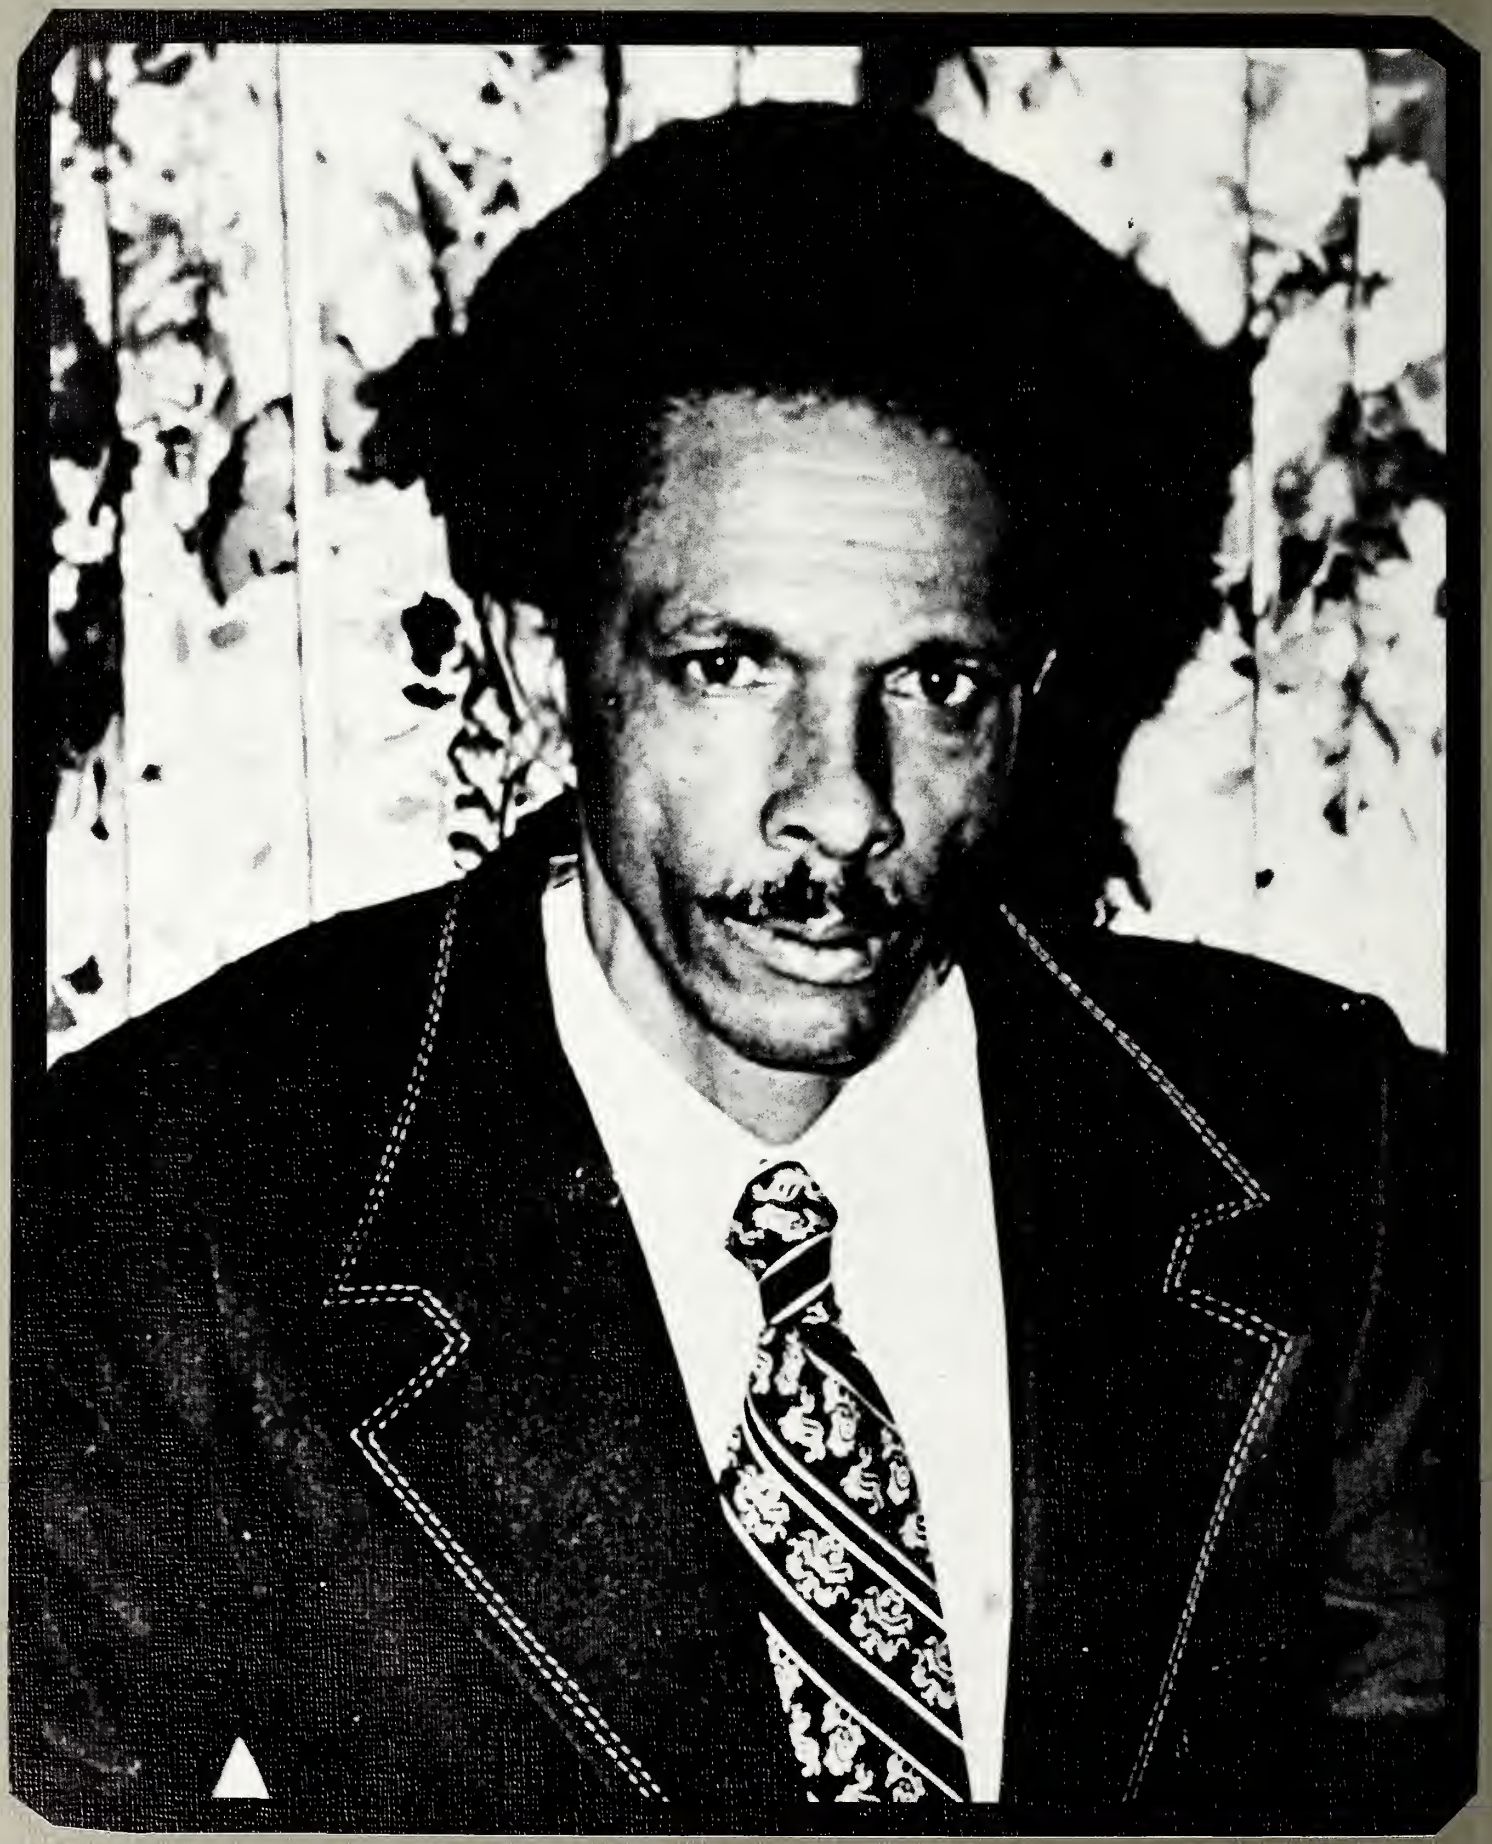
In Memory Of



Dean Frank W. Gambrell, Jr.
1922-1977

The Coahoman staff dedicates these pages to the memory of our friend, counselor and ideal Mr. Frank Wilson Gambrell, Jr., Academic Dean from 1973-1977, who spent 25 years of dedicated, unselfish service to the College and community.

He was a gentleman and professional in his every aspect. His integrity, wisdom, competence and devotion to duty are a priceless legacy that all Coahomans will cherish and share.

The Aging Process Series

Dr. Martin signs contract for a 2-part program to help participants understand the physiological, sociological and psychological effects of the aging process. Funds were provided by the Mississippi Council on Aging via North Delta Planning and Development District.

Frank Stevens, Left, administrator of Title II B Funds for the Bureau of Libraries and Learning Resources visits fall retreat. Posing with Mr. Stevens are Coahoma family and guests from Tuskegee and Alabama A&M. Below are scenes from the retreat and banquet.

The Program, using modules with paraprofessionals in library/media training programs, 3-day retreat.

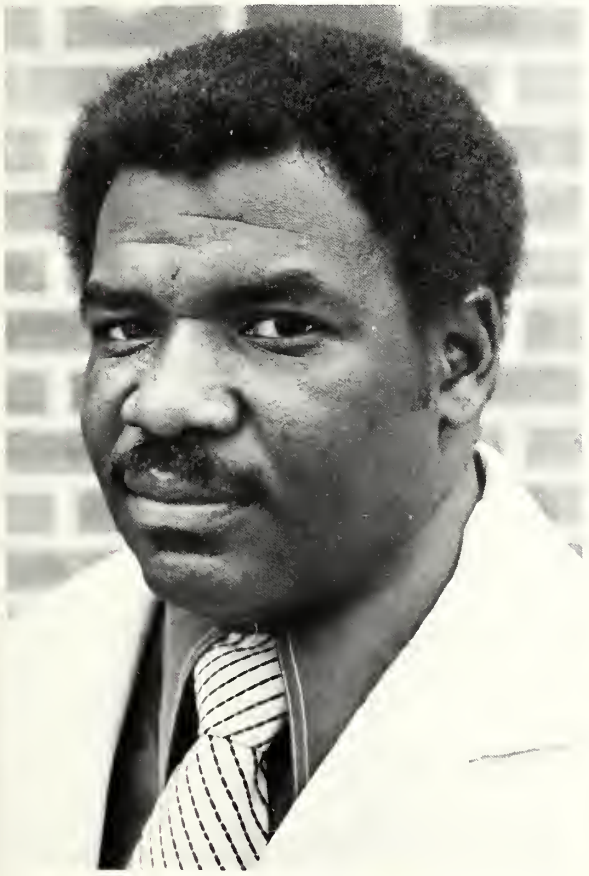
This 1977 team was North Division Champions, Mississippi State Junior College Champions, and 1977 Regional 7 National Champions.

Tracksters in Competition

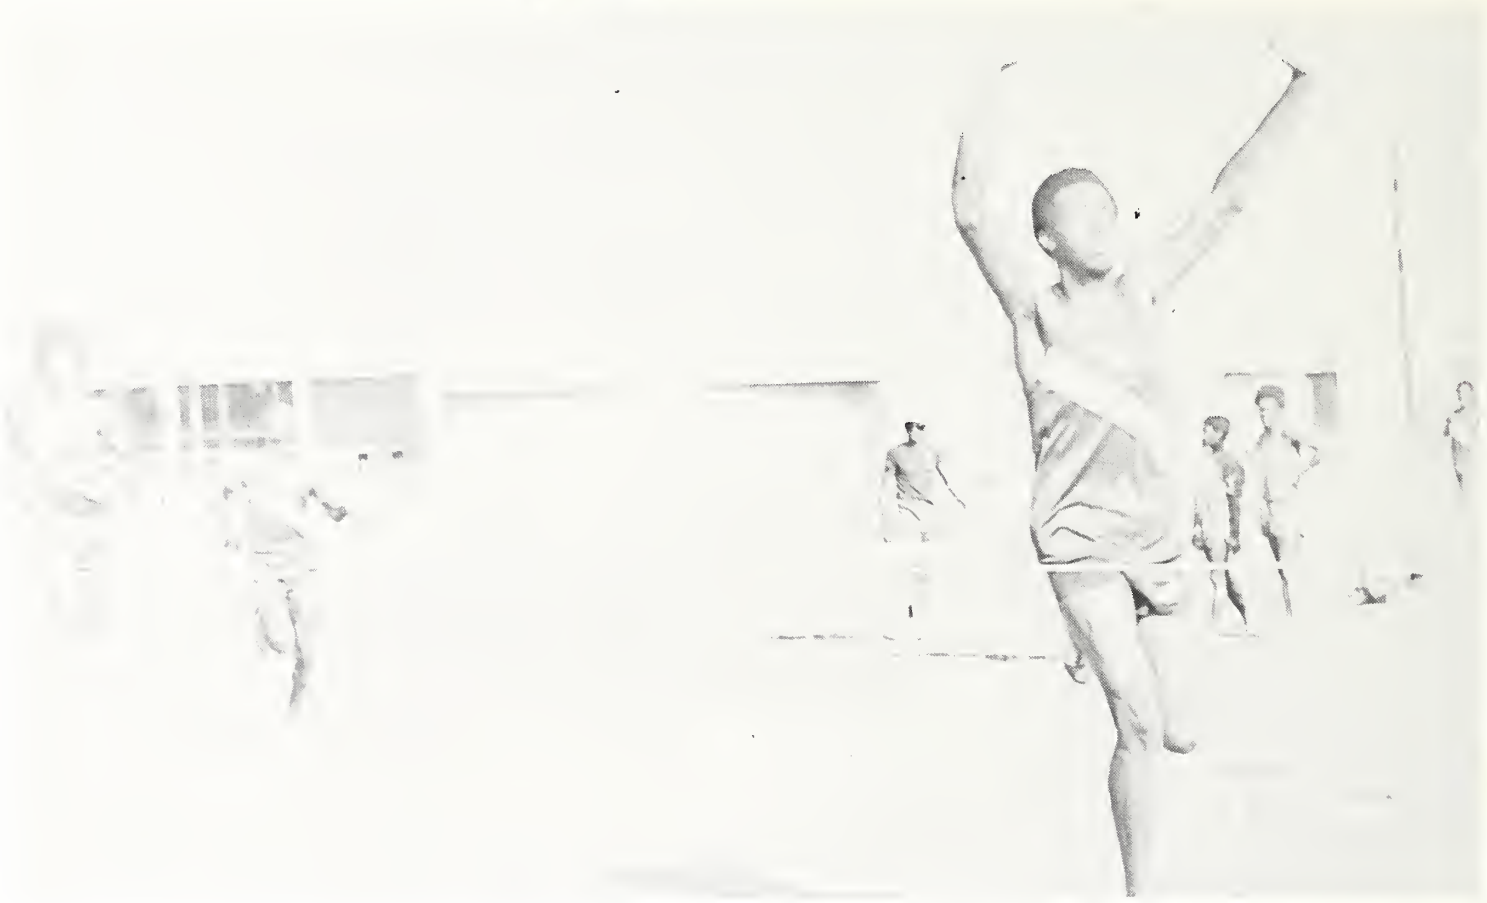
Willie Ray May attempts to clear the bar in the pole vault. Although this is not his best event, he does play an important role in CJC's mile relay team.



Track Coach Edward Stampley

Speed and form are both shown here by CJC's Albert Crawford in the 180 yard low hurdles.

The Thrill of Victory



Calvin Bell, with arms extended, holds the school record in the 880-yard run with a time of 2:03.7.

Ronnie Lawrence is shown here using good form in the high jump. His strength, however, lies in CJC's 440 and 880 yard relay teams.

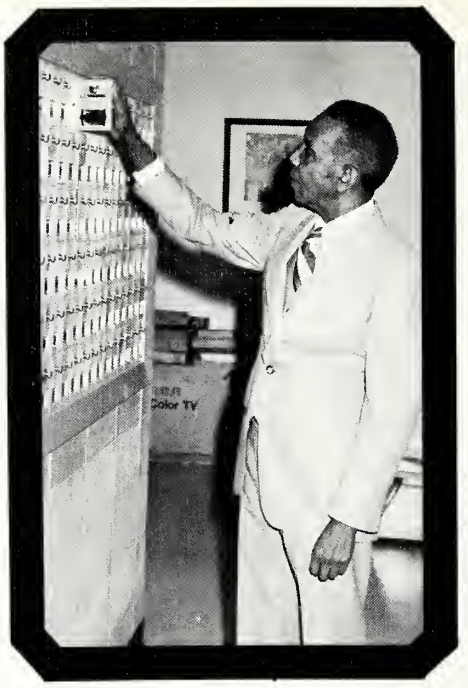
James E. Miller
President



Greetings,

It is quite appropriate that the Staff of the 1977-78 Coahoman has chosen to structure the format and theme of this yearbook around the life of the late and lamented Frank W. Gambrell Jr.

Mr. Gambrell served at this institution from 1951 to the beginning of the 1977-78 school session, during which time he worked as an instructor, as chairman of the Science and Mathematics Department, and as Dean of Academic Affairs. In addition to his assigned duties, he voluntarily assumed many other responsibilities which contributed greatly to the growth and strength of the institution.

In all of his endeavors, his expectations were high and he strove diligently to achieve those expectations. He set the tone of excellence that characterizes Coahoma Junior College.

It is my sincere hope that his life and contributions to this institution will inspire all whom he touched and all who follow him to uphold the lofty principles which he so nobly expoused.

Respectfully yours,

James E. Miller
President

OTHA JORDAN
Editor-in-Chief

I am proud to be your editor of the 1978 Coahoman. The position is a challenge which has been made less difficult by the cooperation and diligence of my staff. We have worked toward two objectives: to produce a yearbook which captures CJC and to produce one of which the students can be proud. We have worked both night and day with strenuous efforts to accomplish these objectives.

There are many different aspects in the production of a good yearbook. The most important is to have a devoted staff. I must say that without them this book would have been lacking in style, flavor, and sophistication. I would like to give special appreciation to our Photographers for their cooperation, especially Mr. Timothy Burrell whose photographic genius was almost indispensable in this publication. Special thanks are also extended to our sponsors Mrs. Josephine Rhymes and Mrs. Gardenia P. Hicks.

Mr. Thomas Richardson, Art Editor; Mrs. Josephine P. Rhymes, Mrs. Gardenia P. Hicks, Sponsors; Mr. Henry Dorsey, Art Editor.
